Observations..

By the Editor

Our football teams will be on the road this week. Stanislaus journeys to McComb and Bay High opens their season with De La Salle in New Orleans. . . . The Stanislaus team, under their new coach, Farley Day, played heads-up ball last Friday night to defeat Foley in their opening game of the season. In the first quarter it appeared as if we were in for another lacing at the hands of the Foley team, but the boys seemed to have gathered their wits after Foley scored their touchdown. From then on the Rock-A-Chaws outplayed the boys from Alabama, and the final score was Stanislaus 13, Foley 6. . . . May both of our teams have a successful season.

The spirit of cooperation among businessmen is going to be exemplified again next week in Picayune, the progressive little city to the North of us, when they stage the Pearl River County Livestock Show. This is an annual event sponsored by their Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the County Extension Department. . . . Does it mean anything to the town, and does it advertise Picayune and Pearl River County? Just go up there and see for yourself. If you do, you will see a live, wide awake group whose sole thought is the welfare of their community, and who realize that what is good for their town and their county is good for every individual living in it. . . . And if you happen to go, be sure and note the number of Hancock County folks you see there. Sure, they, too, are interested. The Picayune business men are making it interesting for them. They are urging them to bring their business to Picayune, while we, in Bay St. Louis, sit idly by, twiddling our thumbs, and watch the show go by. . . . We are going to awaken to our opportunities some day. . . . The rural area of Hancock County offers a vast amount of business for Bay St. Louis. . . . The payroll of the rural area is as large or larger than that of the urban area. . . . But the question is how much of it does Bay St. Louis, the County seat of Hancock County, get. . . . Visualizing the possibilities of increased business coming to them from Hancock County, and they are starting to make a play for it. . . . But apparently we are a most self satisfied people.

Our young friend, Emmett Demoran, is now located in his new place of business at the corner of Union and Hancock. . . . He purchased the building which formerly housed the Five Point Grocery and completely remodeled it. On one side is the Laundryette operated by Mrs. Demoran, and on the Hancock Street side is his appliance store. . . . He extends a cordial invitation to his many friends and customers to drop in and visit with him. He tells us that he is going to have open house soon.

The Boy Scout Troops of Bay St. Louis and Pass Christian will hold a Court of Awards this Monday night at 8:00 o'clock at the Knights of Columbus Home on Main street in Bay St. Louis. Troop 208 of the Bay will be host Troop. Boys will be presented badges and awards from Tenderfoot to Eagle Scout, which is the highest award a boy can receive in troop work. Troop 208 cordially invites the parents and friends of the boys in the troops and anyone interested in scouting to attend the Court of Awards Monday, September 24, 8:00 p.m. at the K. C. Home.

He was the husband of the late Aline Richardson, by his first marriage, and of Olga Levert Wilson by his second marriage.

Funeral services, in charge of Fahey Funeral home, were held from the late residence, with religious services at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic church at 7:00 a.m. Tuesday, September 18. The body was then taken by Fahey's auto hearse for interment in Metairie cemetery.

James Toler, Hancock County Agent, and Donald Nease, 4-H Club member from the county sponsored by Bay-Waveland Garden Club to attend the State Conservation meeting at Magnolia Park, were introduced at the club's first meeting of the year Thursday, September 13, at the home of Mrs. George Lehleiner.

Mrs. Oliver L. Radford, newly installed president, presided.

The guests, who were introduced by Mrs. W. W. Balter, Jr., program chairman, following the business meeting, gave interesting and informative talks. Donald enumerated some of the things he had learned during his six day stay at Magnolia State Park; and following his speech, members were allowed to ask questions relative to conservation and 4-H Club work.

In the absence of Mrs. C. R. Bevan, secretary, Mrs. H. M. Keefe took the minutes for the day. The constitution and by-laws, which were read, will be voted upon at the next meeting.

The corresponding secretary, Mrs. H. A. Thompson, read several letters and gave a report on her work during the summer months.

Mrs. Radford reminded members that the National Council of Garden Clubs will hold its convention in Biloxi next March, and all were requested to prepare for the meeting by planting shrubs and beautifying their grounds.

Reports on proposed plans for the coming year were given by Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. J. Kern, beautification chairmen for Waveland and Bay St. Louis.

Mrs. Eugene Mogabab discussed the coming Flower Judging School to be held at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club October 30 and 31, and asked members to interest everyone in attending the course. Tickets for the two-day session cost $1.50 each.

At each meeting, the Garden Club awards two blue ribbons; Thursday they were won by Mrs. Walter Hava for horticulture with hibiscus blooms, and Mrs. Balter, in the flower arrangement division, for wild berries and vines.

A social hour was held following the business meeting. Mrs. Lehleiner was assisted in serving by the co-hostesses, Mesdames Charles A. Breath, Jr., L. T. Boyd, Ben Hille, John Holzer, H. M. Keefe and Lester Smith and Miss Louise A. Crawford.

Inspector Marshall Lumpkin of the Mississippi State Highway Patrol, assisted by Patrolman George W. Harper, presented the program at the Wednesday meeting of the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club. Kenneth Whitfield, Public Safety Chairman for Rotary, was in charge of the program.

Lumpkin stated that through meetings of clubs and with the help and assistance of such organizations as the Rotary, the Highway Safety Patrol has been able to carry through their Safety program to a successful end.

According to the Inspector, the main purpose of the patrol is for protection, safeguard of life and conservation of public property. The salaries and maintenance funds for the Safety Patrol come from the Drivers' license bureau, he said. All fines, etc., resulting from court proceedings revert to the County and not the Patrol.

"If," Inspector Lumpkin continued, "people would have the same enthusiasm for a safety program and keeping themselves safe on the highways, as they have at kickoff of the opening football game of the season, we wouldn't lose so many lives through accidents."

The speaker said that, according to the reports of patrolmen on the State Highways, there has never been an accident where someone was not at fault, either through negligence, speeding or drunken driving. In July there were 20 fatalities, 17 of which were rural. A decrease in fatal accidents was shown for 1950 over 1949. In 1949 there were 398 fatalities, with 302 in 1950.

Lumpkin stated that there are generally four things to cause accidents—speeding; driving on the wrong side of the road; driving too close behind the preceding car; and failure to give the right of way. "Accidents are worse on Saturday, Sunday and Monday," the Inspector added. "On Saturday, they are getting ready; on Sunday they are ready; and on Monday, they get results—they are in a wreck. I would like to find the chemist who can mix alcohol and gas," he continued; "it just will not work while driving behind the wheel of an automobile."

Three projects which helped carry the Safety Program to a successful end are a greater increase and attendance in schools in the eighth district for which Lumpkin is Inspector as the Highway Patrol has gone into every school and presented Safety programs; the test for drivers' licenses; and Captain Windham's picture "Death on the Highways," which was shown at this meeting. The picture was actually filmed in Mississippi, giving scenes of accidents and true facts of what happens on the highways.

Inspector Lumpkin stated that every 15 minutes in one of the 48 states, someone dies in an automobile wreck. "Accidents just don't happen," he added. "Speeding and drunken driving contribute to the majority of the fatalities."

The entire club was impressed on the importance of this Safety program; and, as many commented, it made you appreciate the Highway Patrol because they are actually trying to protect our lives day and night; and it also made you realize that if you want to live, you must try to be safe in your every day life.

Visiting Rotarians were Fred Moore, Picayune; Jack Lang, Pass Christian; Jim Wittmann, Pass Christian; Leo Seal, Gulfport; Dr. Emmett Irwin, New Orleans. Guests were L. T. Boyd, Jr., and J. V. Runels.

Rocks Defeat Foley 13 to 6...

The Stanislaus Rockchaws tangled with the Foley Tigers last Friday night and pulled all the strings from their claws in the opening game of the season by winning 13 to 6.

The Tigers drew a score late in the first quarter when they drove from their own thirty-five yard line for the lone touchdown. By three completed passes and an end sweep the boys from Foley put the ball on the Rock four, a pass from Rufus Walker to Fred Flowers behind the goal line gave the first marker to Foley.

Early in the second quarter the Rockchaws scored by a series of end sweeps by Curtis Simon, Jerry Rooney, and Bobby Falgout. Rooney went over tackle from the Foley six to score for the Rockchaws. Jerry also placed kicked the extra-point making the score at the half time 7 to 6 for Stanislaus.

Neither team was able to get any offensive work in the third quarter. Both teams were penalized just after gains were made. Early in the last quarter, Stanislaus received a punt on its own

38. Rooney returned it to the Foley 46. Four successive first downs through the line brought the ball to the Tiger three where Johnny Caruso carried it over on a quarter-back sneak. The attempt at placement failed. Foley Tigers. Score by periods:

	1	2	3	4	Total
Foley Tigers	6	0	0	0	6
Stanislaus	0	7	0	6	13

Legion Auxiliary Starts Membership Drive For Year

The American Legion Auxiliary, Clement R. Bontemps Post 139, will begin an enrollment of members for a new year of service to America and its disabled defenders immediately.

Members are given an opportunity to carry on the type of patriotic service given by their husbands, fathers, brothers and sons while in the war, and to help their families when in need, and aid the disabled veterans.

The Auxiliary, now the largest women's organization of its kind in the world, hopes to become even larger because of the ever increasing need in the work they are doing.

Eligibility for membership consists of being a wife, mother, sister or daughter of a member of the American Legion, or of those who gave their lives in either World War I or II or the Korean conflict, or who have died since honorable discharge from the service. Women, who were regularly enrolled in the armed forces during wartime, are eligible to membership in both the Legion and Auxiliary.

"WE NEED YOU," Mrs. Edna Bourgeois, president of the organization, stated. "Please join or renew your membership by contacting your friend in the Auxiliary or by phoning 368," she continued. "Doing a good job depends on all members in the Auxiliary, and with more members, we will be able to carry out our job."

Dues are $2.00 a year.

Try to attend the FUN NIGHT program at Logtown School Friday night, September 28, beginning at 6 o'clock.

The Reverend Clarence J. Howard, S. V. D., well-known orator, editor and retreat master, has been appointed "to establish and direct" a regional Seminary in Central New Guinea for native seminarians by the General Council of the Divine Word Missionaries in Rome.

Father Howard, who was born at Rocky Mount, North Carolina, entered St. Augustine's Seminary, Bay St. Louis, in the fall of 1926. After his ordination to the Holy priesthood in May, 1937, Father Howard obtained his first priestly experience as an assistant pastor in Lafayette, Louisiana; and in 1940, he was steered into the post of editor of ST. AUGUSTINE'S MESSENGER. Father found himself journeying far and wide, in connection with his duties as editor, making contact with a large number of priests and religious of different congregations who are active in the Negro Apostolate, also giving parish missions, retreats and talks in a great variety of places for a great variety of occasions.

Possessor of no mean literary ability and adequately gifted with the power of persuasion, Father Howard has gained recognition for the work of the Divine Word Fathers through his achievements as a pulpit and platform orator. God has endowed him with a great talent and has thus far enabled him to use it well.

In the summer of 1949, he was appointed Assistant Provincial of the Southern Province of the Divine Word Missionaries by his religious superiors in Rome. His capabilities were thoroughly exercised at this time by his simultaneous performance of the duties of Acting Rector of St. Augustine's Seminary and Acting Novice Master of the Brothers for several months.

The Divine Word Missionaries are a missionary congregation; her sons are laboring in all parts of the world. When Saturday, June 16, 1951, arrived, it brought with it a new message for one of the society's servants. The new day brought the dawn of a new career for Father Howard; he had been appointed to establish a minor seminary in New Guinea. Father Howard is the first colored priest of the Divine Word Missionaries to be assigned to foreign mission work outside of Africa.

F. Herlihy Named Acting Postmaster

An examination will be called some time later to fill the vacancy, and Herlihy will serve as acting postmaster until such time as a regular appointment is made.

Don't forget the FUN NIGHT program at Logtown School, Friday night, September 28, beginning at 6 o'clock.

"The well has been drilled as 'tight hole' with a total depth of 10,378 feet, being the only official information released by the operator."

"Sidewall cores are said to be the present occupation of the crews."

The shows mentioned above have brought about a considerable leasing program by Sun Oil in Hancock County and Pearl River County in Mississippi and St. Tammany Parish, Louisiana.

Sun Oil has also, during the past week, obtained a permit to drill a second test in the area. The new try will be the Whitfield-Weston Unit No. 1, in Section 22 T. 7. S. R. 16 W., Hancock County and is located approximately seven miles north of the test now underway.

From the Mississippi Oil Review of September 13, we quote the following:

Location of a second wildcat test on its extensive Hancock County, Mississippi block has been made by Sun Oil Company. Permit has been issued the company for the drilling of its No. 1, Whitfield-Weston Unit C NE NW Section 22 T. 7. S. R. 16 W., which carries a proposed depth of 10,000 feet.

"Drill site of this test lies approximately seven miles north of the same company's No. 1, Weston Lumber Co., C NE NE Section 28 T. 8. S. R. 16 W. which is now bottomed at 10,378 feet. Reportedly, the company has run Schlumberger and is taking side wall samples."

"Drilled as a tight well, no information has been released by the Sun on the No. 1 Weston Lumber Co. Reports that the company has added extensively to its already huge block in the area has created considerable interest surrounding the wildcat."

Theatre Presents New Hit Thursday

It is almost impossible to believe that one play could entertain so much talent and be so well produced that it can be overlooked.

"The Gathering Storm," now in production at the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre, fills that description. The play, which opened last night and which will close tomorrow night, is perfectly cast with each member executing his role with a perfection that is generally put forth by experienced actors.

The best performance, that of a simple-minded hero-worshipping brother, was given by Joe Vigueire as Frankie. Through his excellent portrayal of a difficult part, Vigueire displays great acting ability. He puts more feeling into his role than any of the other characters and he seems to live the part while on stage.

Mrs. Carl Craft, who always gives an excellent performance, did not fall short in this play. As Gran Handstone, her first dramatic lead, Mrs. Craft proved that she is capable of handling any part given her. She is one of the most versatile actresses in the local theatre group.

Acting alone requires a great deal of ability; but when a young man takes on the job of directing, building a stage set and enacting the leading role, he must have unusual talents. Walker Spangenberg has all of these; he not only directed the show and built the stage sets, but gave an excellent performance in the leading role. If Walker would only control the emotion in his voice a little more, he would add to his part of Ned, the brother who lets love and the ambitious desire of his girl friend lead him to destruction.

Mary Frances Scafidi, as Myrtle, Ned's girl, gave a very good performance. Though she took over the role in this play with a short time to learn lines and for rehearsals, this did not hamper her acting.

Dr. Harold Keefe as Dr. James, Mrs. Paul Miller as Mrs. Rumble and Mrs. Lee Esau, all veteran performers, gave their usual good performances. Though their roles were small, they added much to the play.

"The Gathering Storm" three act drama by Gordon Glennon, was adapted from the novel, "Envy My Simplicity."

THANKS TO SUN OIL

The announcement of the finding of oil in Hancock County would certainly be welcome news. We are not prophets, but every indication points in the direction that the day is not too far off when this will be headline news.

The Sun Oil Company leased the Weston Lumber Company lands in 1923, and since that time they have paid their leaseholds year after year on this and other lands in the County; certainly, this was some indication that they felt that the prospects of oil in this locality were good.

They completed drilling the first well some few days ago, and no information is available as to their findings, but the activities in securing other leases by the company gives greater hopes that they were not disappointed in the showings encountered in their Weston Lumber Company Number One.

We quote a comment by the Mississippi Oil Review in their column, "Drill Bits": "Just what the Sun Oil Company may have encountered in its Hancock County, Mississippi, test continues a company secret... at any rate the company added extensively to its already large leaseholdings in the area (The Company's Weston lease alone reportedly comprises more than 80,000 acres)... Moreover, a second test has been staked on the block... Drill site of the second venture lies about seven miles to the north and will be carried as the company's No. 1, Whitfield-Weston Unit, C NE NW Section 22-7-16 W... It is expected to be drilled to approximately 10,000 feet... The initial try on the block No. 1 Weston Lumber Company, C NE NE 28-8-16 is now bottomed at 10,738 feet with side wall samples being taken," all of which gives us some idea of the activity. The taking of the sidewall samples would naturally lead us to believe that some indications of oil sands were encountered.

We are thankful, and indeed grateful, to the Sun Oil Company for the interest they have shown in Hancock County throughout these many years. The maintenance of their leaseholds alone has meant much to the county and to the people from whom the leases were acquired; and it may be that our gratitude may be extended even further with the advent of an oil field in this county.

Freedom Balloons Carry Messages Of Hope To People Behind The Iron Curtain

(1) Soft winds carry plastic balloons across Czechoslovakia with messages from the Crusade for Freedom. (2) An excited Czech woman broadcasts music and encouragement to her people over Radio Free Europe which is supported by contributions from the American people. (3) Lester Williams of Columbia, Mississippi Chairman of the Crusade, holds aloft a rubber balloon, another type used to carry Freedom messages.

"To the people of Czechoslovakia:

"A new wind is blowing.

"A new hope is stirring.

"Friends of Freedom in other lands have found a new way to reach you.

"They know that you also want Freedom.

"Millions of free men and women have joined together and are sending you this message of friendship over the winds of freedom—which in the upper air always blow from West to East.

"An oppressor has brought slavery to your proud country. He has tried to cut you off completely from your friends in the free world.

"But he has failed.

"We are in touch with you daily by radio.

"Now we take this new way of extending our hand to you.

"There is no dungeon deep enough to hide the Truth, no wall high enough to keep out the message of freedom.

"Tyranny cannot control the winds—cannot enslave your hearts.

"FREEDOM WILL RISE AGAIN!"

That thrilling and inspiring message in the Czechoslovakian language is printed on a small leaflet made of tough, water resistant paper and signed by the Crusade for Freedom, representing 15,000,000 American citizens, and 6 other international organizations of the free world. On the reverse side of the leaflet is listed the frequencies and time schedules of Radio Free Europe, the Voice of America, BBC, Radio Paris and other radio stations broadcasting to people behind the Iron Curtain. Millions of these freedom messages are being carried to the people of Czechoslovakia in thousands of plastic and rubber balloons.

Two years ago the idea of using balloons to send truth messages over the Iron Curtain was only a gleam in the eyes of scientists, the man in the street and other Americans determined to spike the lies of communism.

But in 1950 leaders of the Crusade for Freedom took up the idea in earnest as a potential means of supplementing its hard hitting Radio Free Europe broadcasts.

The Crusade asked General Mills, Inc., Minneapolis, Minn., to recommend a balloon system for carrying messages behind the Iron Curtain. Also, the Dewey & Almy Chemical Company, Boston, was consulted and began experiments using rubber weather balloons as carriers for printed messages.

The balloons developed by General Mills are made from a very thin transparent plastic. They are 4 1/2 feet square and in flight look like fat, overstuffed "pillows".

They tend to float at a constant altitude, returning to earth by leakage through the pores of the fabric. The "pillow" carries a payload of up to one-third of a pound of messages. Sides of the "pillow" provide billboard space for block lettering of the Czech word for "freedom" in 5-inch letters.

The Dewey & Almy rubber balloon carries a payload of 3 1/2 pounds of messages (2,500 single sheets). During flight it climbs steadily until reaching 30,000 feet where it bursts. This releases its messages, scattering them over an area of many miles.

Both plastic and rubber balloons follow pre-determined paths into the target countries.

After climbing to their ceiling altitude, the "pillow" balloons float at 20,000 feet and are borne by the wind. At this time of year wind speeds at this altitude range from 25 to 50 miles an hour. Upon entering the target country, the "pillow" drops to earth along a track roughly 60 miles long and 10 miles wide.

The balloons have a range of from 100 to 700 miles depending upon payload and amount of hydrogen gas used.

Objectives of the balloons are to alert the captive peoples to this new technique of contact; to undermine the morale of the Communist oppressors; and to test the effectiveness of mass communication by scientifically controlled balloons.

Lester Williams, Columbia, Chairman for Mississippi of the 1951 Crusade for Freedom drive, said "this new technique in fighting communism through large scale balloons is another important spearhead in the Crusade's efforts to tear holes in the Iron Curtain. By integrating this large scale balloon communication with the constant day by day messages from Radio Free Europe, we will brighten the prospects for freedom for the enslaved people of Europe and for peace in the world."

"We know that Radio Free Europe broadcasts are getting results. Letters smuggled out thank RFE for keeping alive hopes of eventual liberation from the Kremlin."

"Ambassador Crow has said the busier we can keep the Bolsheviks in their own backyards, the less chance of their starting trouble anywhere else. Radio Free Europe has proven that it is keeping the communists busy in Czechoslovakia."

"I hope all Mississippians will join the 1951 Crusade for Freedom and help build several more powerful transmitters for Radio Free Europe and a Freedom Station in Asia."

"Mississippi has been asked to provide $25,000 out of a national total of $3,500,000. I am confident that this goal can be reached."

Yacht Club News

By: Mrs. F. J. Trastour

The Bay-Waveland Yacht Club held the last races of the season at the Club House on Saturday and Sunday - a series of four races - for the Cock O' The Walk Trophy.

Competing skippers were H. A. Thompson Jr., Louis Koerner, Jack Gordon and E. N. Erwin. Each skipper sailed four races, using a different boat for each race.

The first race was won by Horace Thompson; Louis Koerner was second; Jack Gordon, third and J. E. Erwin, fourth. Thompson won the second race Saturday afternoon; Jack Gordon was second; Louis Koerner, third and J. E. Erwin, fourth.

Sunday afternoon the races were resumed, and Jack Gordon won the first race; J. E. Erwin was second; H. A. Thompson, third and Louis Koerner, fourth. The final race saw Louis Koerner over the line first, with a total of ten and a quarter points; J. E. Erwin second with a total of eight points; H. A. Thompson third with a total of thirteen and a half points, and Jack Gordon fourth with a total of nine and a quarter points.

After the races, presentation of two trophies took place in the ballroom of the Club. Mr. Thompson was presented the Cock O' The Walk Trophy, which will remain in the Club, and Mr. Thompson was given an individual trophy. When the trophy was presented to Mr. Thompson, he said that a skipper was only as good as his crew and thanked his members for their help. In turn, he gave the trophy to his wife, Mrs. Ethel Thompson, who sailed with him in all four races.

Miss Mary Jane Green was then presented the Bay Bourbon Perpetual Trophy, and the presentation was made by C. J. Fayard, president of the Bay Bourbon Boys. Miss Green was also given a small trophy of her own, as the Bay Bourbon Trophy remains at the Club, with her name inscribed on it as the outstanding skipper-ette for 1951.

The Club continues to have its Saturday night dinners and Wednesday lunches and expects to have these activities throughout the winter months. The fishing and crabbing is excellent off the wharf of the Club, and we urge all our members to come on out and try their luck.

Bay High Chatter

Enrollment in the public schools continues to increase from day to day. By adding additional teachers and re-organizing our junior high school work, we have been able to remove some of the crowded conditions in the rooms of our grades.

The dental clinic, operated by the U. S. Health Department and the Hancock County Health Department under Dr. Ray Bird, is progressing nicely, and in order to clarify some misunderstanding relative to students who will have this service, I will state that since this is an experiment, they are taking only students from certain grades in the elementary schools in Bay St. Louis and the county.

The Bay High Booster Club will hold its first meeting for the election of officers and make plans for this season Thursday, September 20, at 7:30 p. m. in the Bay High lunchroom. All adults who are interested in our sports program at Bay High may become members of the Booster Club if they so desire. Season tickets for all sports will go on sale at this meeting. Thursday night or you may secure tickets by calling 57.

Our football team goes into action Friday night, September 21, when they meet the De La Salle High School of New Orleans at the NOPD Stadium at 8:00 p. m. The high school team will represent the team for this season. The team is showing a good deal of improvement and is expected to be a membership under the direction of James Brent.

On Thursday night, September 27, the Bay High football team

RURAL SCHOOL KIDS ENJOY FASTER, SAFER BUS SERVICE

The familiar yellow school bus which daily transports 150,000 Mississippi rural school children to and from classes has come a long way both in miles and in safety and efficiency since free transportation was provided children of the state back in 1910.

During the 1949-50 school year a total of 4154 school buses transported approximately 53,000,000 passengers over 21,000,000 miles of Mississippi roads without a casualty.

First and foremost consideration of the transportation program administered by the Education Department's division of school building and transportation is safety.

For the past six years, driver training schools have been held throughout the state and have been voluntarily attended by 65 per cent of all drivers operating within the state. In addition, the division, headed by T. H. Naylor, has encouraged the replacement of old, wooden type equipment by modern, steel buses designed to protect the young cargo they carry.

"We attribute our safer, reduced accident rate to drivers that are carefully selected and well trained, and to good safe equipment properly maintained and supervised."

Transportation for school children at public expense was introduced in 1910 with the consolidation of rural schools to provide better educational facilities to children in outlying areas. In the decade that followed this move, interest in education and a demand for high school facilities within reach of every girl and boy became evident.

But even as late as 1943 Mississippi school transportation facilities were woefully inefficient and dangerous. At that time a total of 3952 buses were transporting 138,100 children to school daily, or an average of 35 children per bus. Only 637 of these vehicles were all-steel buses. 3315 of which were wooden bodies, of which 2287 were homemade.

In other words only one-sixth of the children in the state were riding to school in safe buses, yet the cost was over $3,000,000 annually. Mississippi, according to a report prepared by the education department, "had the poorest transportation service of any state at that time, and was spending more money per child per month than any other southern state."

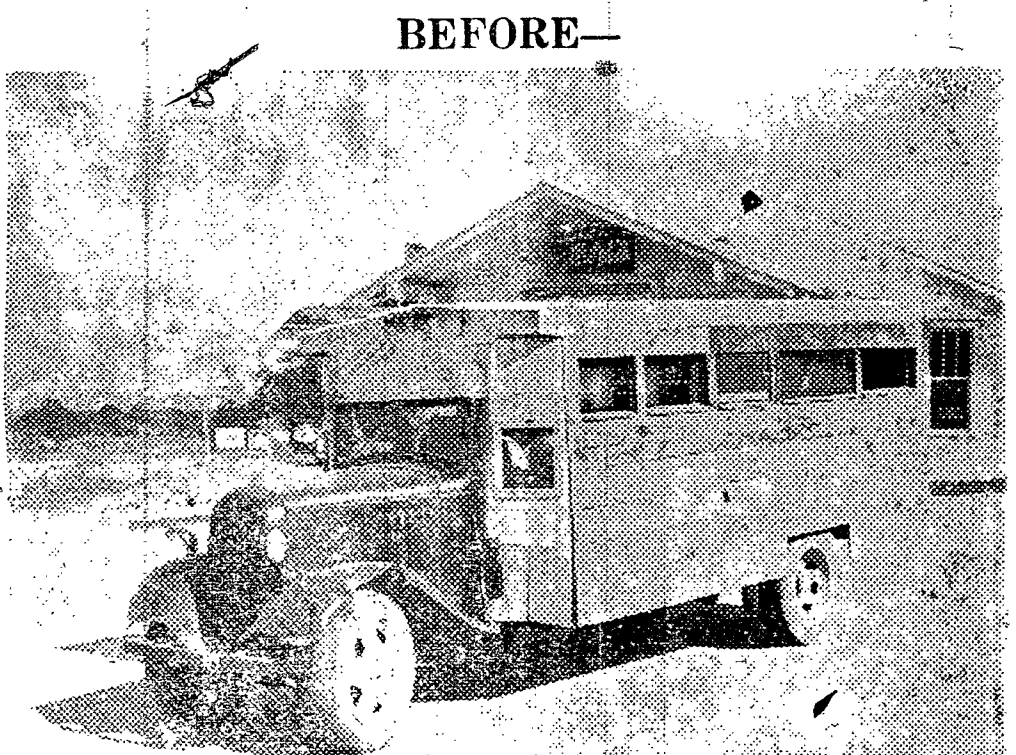

But the legislature of 1944 made a move to remedy this situation by authorizing counties to purchase and operate buses of their own.

Today 1897 counties and school districts own 1897 steel buses, 166 own steel bodies and privately owned chassis, while only 287 steel buses are owned by private operators. The 1155 remaining buses, which are rapidly being replaced, are of a more ancient vintage and operated by private contractors.

The manner in which school authorities took to the legislative action is the fact that today 72 of the 82 counties in the state have gone into public ownership of school buses, at least to some degree. Several counties own and operate all their buses.

Naylor points out that "public owned buses in most counties are proving to be not only more economical but also more satisfactory to operate."

For instance, the average cost per child per school year for public owned buses in 1949-50 amounted to $21.62, compared to a cost of $27.06 per child for privately operated vehicles. This saving, school authorities believe, could be utilized for improved in-

This home-made rattlesnake, wooden school bus is typical of the type of buses which were serving the rural school children of Mississippi until a few years ago. Not only were they more expensive, but dangerous and inefficient.

Modern steel bodies are the order of the day. They not only operate with a greater degree of safety, since there have been no casualties during the past two years, but they are proving more economical. Many counties now are purchasing their own equipment and training their drivers for safety's sake.

Bus bodies purchased by counties and school districts must meet certain requirements set up by the Department of Education and all bids by such companies are received and passed upon by the State Board of Education. Chassis normally are purchased from local dealers at substantial discounts.

One BAW plant, the Pathfinder Division of Superior Coach at Kosciusko, which makes school bus bodies, already has submitted bids in hopes of helping supply these needs. Scores of other companies of this type, of course, also compete for this growing business.

To service publicly owned equipment, 41 of the 82 counties have school operated garages and shops with 28 county-owned service trucks. Equipment is painted, overhauled and prepared during the summer months for service during the school year.

Mississippi's school buses travel an average of 33 miles per day, per bus, carry an average of 35 children per bus, some as many as 68 and some as few as 18, at a total cost of $4,529,246.32 per year. This represents 18 cents out of each school dollar.

Heaviest average daily attendance of 5551 pupils transported by bus occurs in Jones county, with Lee next with 4676 bus riding students per day and Leake third with 4606. Jefferson with 425, and Tunica with 450 have the lowest average attendance traveling by school bus.

The decreasing cost of transporting students on publicly owned buses is encouraging to school leaders, but of paramount importance is the safety of the children utilizing them.

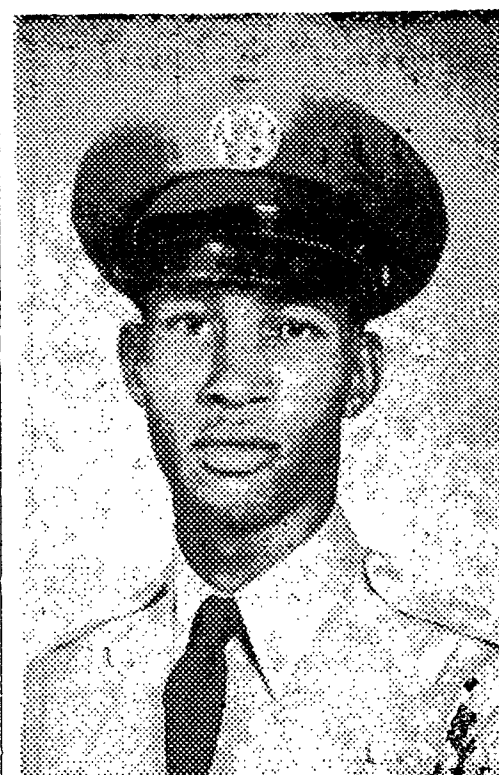

Many counties now will not employ a driver or contract with one who has not taken driver training instructions, and in most cases an experienced driver must accompany him for a few days on his first run.

So today Mississippi's rural kids are getting to school faster, in more comfort and certainly with a greater degree of safety. Truly the old school bus ain't what she used to be.

Jung - Radford Vows Said Saturday

Miss Meryl Geraldine Radford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Lee Radford of Bay St. Louis, and Rudolph Martin Jung III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jung, Jr., of New Orleans, were married at the Bay St. Louis Main Street Methodist church Saturday, September 15, at 7 o'clock in the evening. Rev. Dr. Albert S. Hurley, pastor Napoleon Avenue Methodist church, New Orleans, performed the double ring ceremony.

As Mrs. J. B. Goldman played the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, the bride entered with her father who gave her in marriage. She was wearing a wedding dress of Chantilly lace over candle light satin, with the skirt falling in a graceful train at the back. The lace bodice was buttoned to the neck, which was finished with a pointed collar, and the long button and pearl trimmed sleeves ended in points over the hands. Her bouquet, in cascade effect, was an arrangement of Fleur de Amour and tube roses arranged around a white orchid. Her finger tip veil of illusion was held in place by a semi-cap of satin and lace trimmed with pearls and orange blossoms.

Preceding the ceremony, Mark Solomon sang "One Alone" and "O Promise Me," accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Goldman.

John Caruso, nephew of the bridegroom, carried the rings which were attached to satin streamers hanging from a satin wrapped baton.

Miss Jean Bebel, New Orleans, was maid of honor to the bride; and Mrs. John Caruso, New Orleans, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Mary Agnes Wallin, Miss Jean Pritchard, New Orleans; Miss Gay Curren, Kiln, and Mrs. O. Louis Holmes, Bay St. Louis. The maid of honor wore yellow, and the four bridesmaids wore aqua gowns. The dresses, nylon net over a matching shade of taffeta, were fashioned with shirred bodices over taffeta; pleated stoles completed the dresses. They all carried crescent shaped bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums. Their headpieces were of Fleur de Amour forming a half wreath at the back of the head.

Mr. Jung had as his best man his brother-in-law, John Caruso, of New Orleans. The groomsmen were Roscoe Trenchard, Walcott, New Orleans; D. R. Carey, Lafayette, Louisiana; Oliver Lee Radford, Jr., and John David Radford, Bay St. Louis, brothers of the bride.

The altar of the church had a background of fern and the seven-branched candelabra held lighted white tapers. Tall baskets were filled with white gladioli, chrysanthemums and tube roses. The lights in the church were extinguished and marriage vows were said by candlelight. A reception at the home of the Radfords on North Beach followed, where the bride and bridegroom's mothers were receiving with the bride party. Mrs. Radford wore an orchid chiffon dress, and Mrs. Jung wore a powder blue chiffon. Each wore an orchid corsage.

There was a fan shaped arrangement of white gladioli on the mantel in front of which the bride party stood. On the bride's table were the silver candle holders holding the lighted white tapers. In the center was the large wedding cake which was molded with an oblong base and centered with a large heart shaped cake, and smaller heart shaped cakes were at either end of the base.

For traveling the bride wore a suit of brocade silk in a dubonette shade. With this she wore the orchid from her bouquet, a black velvet hat and black accessories.

Upon their return from their wedding trip to Florida, the couple will make their home in New Orleans where the bridegroom is in business.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Ray del Rio, Baton Rouge, Louisiana; Miss Florence Radford, Montgomery, Alabama; Dr. and Mrs. B. F. Floyd, Miss Pamela Floyd, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Revell, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Cornell, Mr. and Mrs. William Revell, Gulfport; Mrs. George Gumpert, Mrs. Edwin Biss, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Berns, M. J. Episcopal School

Opens For Year

Rev. and Mrs. C. R. Johnson issued invitations last week to the formal opening Sunday afternoon of the Christ Church, Episcopal property on South Beach where Rev. and Mrs. Johnson and Mr. Johnson's mother, Mrs. M. E. Johnson, have taken up residence.

Guests were taken on a conducted tour of the playgrounds and buildings of the Christ Church Parish school, which opened for its third session Monday, September 17, and to see all of the property.

The walls of the building are finished in natural cypress and the ceilings in pastel colors of pink, yellow, aqua and green. The floors are sanded and polished throughout with the exception of the bath and kitchen and these are finished in green tile.

The 1951-52 session has an enrollment of 91, and the following curriculum is offered under the four teachers, Mrs. Molly Shipman, Bay St. Louis, nursery; Mrs. Ann Stahling, Gulfport, kindergarten; Miss Robin Longre, Hattiesburg, first grade; Mrs. Mildred Ramond, Bay St. Louis, second grade and principal.

The Parish school opened in the parish house on Carroll avenue in February, 1950, as a kindergarten and moved to the Masonic Temple in the fall of that year with a first grade added.

It is now in its permanent home, at 912 South Beach, which is owned by the church. This property was purchased by the church from Dr. Thomas Benton Sellers in the summer of 1951.

The entrance prize was won by Mrs. Anthony Benigno; a large home made cake, donated by Mrs. E. A. Yates, was won by Father Desmond.

After the meeting was closed by Monsignor Gmelch, refreshments of home made cake and cold drinks were served by Mrs. Yates and Mrs. Nelius Rhodes, co-hostesses. October hostesses will be Mesdames Horace Kergosien and V. J. Piazza.

Mr. and Mrs. Armand Preau of New Orleans are spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Dantagnan.

LOGTOWN NEWS

P-T. A. Plans Fun Night For Saturday

By Jay Metz

The Executive Committee of the Logtown P-T. A. held its first meeting at the school Thursday afternoon of last week to organize a schedule by all officers of the organization and all chairmen of the various committees recently formed. Committees and selected chairmen are:

Membership and Hospitality, Mrs. John E. Metzler; Social, Mrs. Stanley Strahan; Health, Mrs. Louis Bristow; Library, Mrs. Ed Harriel; Landscaping and Ground Maintenance, Ed Harriel; Publicity and Parliamentarian, Ed J. E. Metzler; Budget and Finance, Mrs. Elliot Casanova; Parade Protection and Recreation, Leonard Forstall; Music, Miss Gladys Patch; and Decorations, Mrs. Ed DeBoer.

All committee chairmen were asked to make short reports on any progress to date, and give a picture of a program for the coming year.

Other activities plans were made for holding the first regular meeting and for a fun night month to be held later in the month.

The first regular meeting of the Logtown Parents Teachers Association, with Mrs. Louis Bristow as presiding officer, was held at the Logtown School Saturday evening with over 20 persons in attendance. The meeting was opened with the reading of the P-T. A. prayer by Mrs. J. E. Metzler.

Business of the meeting included reports by committee chairmen, with their outline of a plan and program for the coming year.

Mrs. Metzler, membership chairman, reported that dues are now being collected. Collecting points have been established at the Pearlington and Logtown post offices and at Forstall's store. If this system works, door-to-door canvassing can be eliminated. All parents of school children and all others interested were urged to join the P-T. A. As an added incentive, a classroom prize will be awarded to the grade which has the best parent membership enrollment.

The Health program was outlined by Mrs. Bristow, who reported a most ambitious program for the year. Included will be a County dental program of treating teeth with fluoride, immunizations and vaccinations; and physical examinations for the First Graders. Mrs. Bristow reported that the County, through Dr. Shipp, is ready and willing to lend all necessary aid in the furtherance of our health program.

Mr. Harriel, as Landscape chairman, reported that the Home Demonstration Club is being asked to consider taking on schoolyard landscaping as a club project. If this is accepted, it appears possible that additional help and assistance might be furnished through the County Agent's office.

The library program was discussed. All old and worn out books are being discarded. Everyone was invited to bring suitable books and magazines to the school, or to leave them at the post offices where they will be picked up. The committee and the teachers will screen this material for suitability. A need for additional book shelves was voiced.

Colonel Metzler, as a School Trustee, briefly discussed the progress made at the school since last May. He reported that the hiring of a fourth teacher required the construction of a new lunchroom building and the reclaiming of the old lunchroom as a classroom. New and more up-to-date equipment was added in the lunchroom, but much work still to be done has been curtailed because of lack of funds. It was reported that a letter has been written and sent to every family living within the Consolidated School District. The letter explains the current situation and makes a request for monetary donations in order that work may continue soon.

The preceding officer reported that a "Fun Night" has been scheduled for Friday, September 23, beginning at 6 p. m. This will be held at the schoolhouse. This affair will be a benefit to provide funds for the P-T. A. to carry on its program for the school year. Every penny of the money obtained at this party will go toward improving conditions at the school or for providing extra classroom equipment.

The theme for Fun Night will be hats. Everyone who comes must wear a hat, with prizes to be awarded for biggest, smallest and funniest. Short movies will be held throughout the evening.

Other attractions contemplated include crab legs, mystery boxes, beauty boxes, a plant booth, a fish pond, and other side show to be planned later. The public is invited to come and spend their money and have fun.

Following adjournment, refreshments of sandwiches, cookies and soft drinks were served. Tables were pleasantly decorated with flowers furnished by Mrs. DeBoer, who also provided favors referring to Fun Night.

Miss Thelma Rouchon and Miss Lucia Metzler are commuting daily to New Orleans where they are attending business college. Miss Rouchon is a student at Spencer's while Miss Metzler is a student at Soule's.

Louis Bristow, Jr., U. S. A. F., is at home on a 30 day furlough which will terminate this Saturday. Louis has completed his training at Lowry Air Force Base, located at Denver, Colorado and will be reassigned to Camp Kilmer, New Brunswick, New Jersey, prior to being sent to the Northeast Command.

Folks, don't forget Fun Night, Saturday, September 23 is the date. Come hungry and buy your hot dogs at the Snack Bar. Movies and all the trimmings add lots of fun for nickels, dimes and quarters. This party will close the local drive for funds. Be present to see how we all helped each other and especially the school children. They need the best, so let's give so they'll have it as soon as possible.

And don't forget your hat. What is funnier than a ladies hat, especially if worn by a man. It's a date, folks.

Mrs. Frances Elizabeth McCoy, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred O. McCoy of Clermont Harbor, and Al Voight, retired local businessman, were quietly married Saturday, September 16, at 12:30 p. m. by Reverend J. P. Bonner, pastor of the Methodist Church in Clermont Harbor.

The bride, who was attired in a cream-colored silk suit with a small brown hat, brown accessories and a white orchid corsage, was attended by Mrs. Victorine Ladner of Bay St. Louis. The bride, a native of Wichita, Kansas, is a graduate of McMain high school in New Orleans; she attended the Atlanta Art School, Atlanta, Georgia.

Mr. Voight is a graduate of the University of North Dakota. Upon returning from their two week trip, Mr. and Mrs. Voight will reside in their new home, "The Oaklands," on Nicholson avenue and Kiln road.

The wedding plans were carefully carried out; so, that even the closest friends of the couple knew nothing about the approaching marriage until the close of the regular church service Sunday morning.

RUNAWAY AUTO HITS NINE PEOPLE
Two victims reported crippled for life. Seven others in hospital. Car owner is sued.

EXPENSIVE ACCIDENT

Nothing is more costly than carelessness. In Pennsylvania recently, a car, parked on a hill with motor running and brakes off, went traveling without its driver. The runaway car hit nine persons then crashed into a store. Personal injury and property damage claims against the car owner may total a small fortune. Auto liability Insurance pays even the biggest damage claims WHEN the policy limits are high enough. A minimum $5000 and $10,000 Automobile Liability policy is of little use when damage claims run to $50,000 or $100,000.

When you buy Automobile Liability Insurance, be sure you buy enough.

County Agent's Notes

By JAMES TOLER

INSECT CONTROL

GREEN BUGS. Prospects are for a heavy infestation of green bugs on winter oats. Damage from these insects usually occurs after the temperature drops below 60 degrees F.

The green bugs suck sap from oats causing the plants to die in spots over a field. Good insurance against greenbug is to increase the rates of nitrogen. The application of at least 20 units of nitrogen to the acre aids growth of oats and helps them overcome damage, provided the land is not lacking in phosphorus and potash.

HOG WORMS. Approximately 5 weeks delay in growth can be caused by hog worms so don't let them steal your profits—worm all four pigs when they are seven to eight weeks old, and again when they are 13 to 14 weeks old.

Sanitation is important to worm control. Make sure all farrowing pens are cleaned with lye and boiling water to kill any worm eggs. Before placing sow in farrowing pen, scrub her udder with soap and warm water.

For worming pigs use a one percent sodium fluoride mixture in dry feed for one day. Mix thoroughly one pound of sodium fluoride with 100 pounds of dry corn meal or shorts.

For smaller quantities, mix one teaspoon of sodium fluoride with one quart of corn meal. This will worm one 50-pound pig.

CAUTION. Give the pigs all they will eat for one day, then go back to regular feeding. NEVER feed sodium fluoride in garbage, slops, milk, wet feeds or in capsules.

HOG LICE AND MANGE. Cause loss of weight from hogs and make them irritable and nervous. Control them with benzene hexachloride, lindane or chlordane. DDT will give control of lice but will not control mange.

DAIRYING

Milk Production. There is no justification for milk having to be imported from the mid-west each winter. Production in Mississippi should be increased to meet the demand. It should, and can, be produced cheaper than in Illinois, Wisconsin and other states in the area.

To do this, dairying in Mississippi must be placed on a business basis. Better protection from abnormal weather, more and better roughage, more regularity in management, breeding to production-bred bulls of the breed prevailing in the dairy herd, better care and more complete development of replacement heifers, disease and parasite control and a greater effort to market a high quality product are all necessary if Mississippi is to compete successfully with the dairying states in the mid-west.

NUTGRASS

Nutgrass can be controlled in small areas with one pound methyl bromide per 100 square feet surface area. The methyl bromide acts as a fumigant and must be applied as one. This procedure is very beneficial to plant growth growers and small gardeners. This material is poisonous and should be handled according to directions.

HOME AGENT'S NOTES

HERE ARE A FEW CANNING TIPS

By MISS MADGE ALLRED

Here's an idea you may like to try next time you make jelly. When covering the jelly with paraffin, pour a thin layer of paraffin over the top of the jelly. Then put a strong piece of string on top of the paraffin with the end of the string over the edge of the glass.

Now pour another layer of paraffin over the top. When you get ready to use the jelly, remove the paraffin with the string.

WATER-BATH CANNING. You are careful as you use your pressure-canner, but are you as careful as you can tomatoes and fruits in the water-bath?

A head of steam can build up over closely covered boiling water. If you use your pressure-canner for a water-bath, the cover should be lifted off top, a few minutes, and the pot cock opened to let steam escape and to avoid building up pressure.

Remove the cover by tilting it away from you, so any rush of steam or bubbling water will not reach you. Use thick but pliable old holders to protect your hands. If you lift jars separately, use a clamp lifter that holds each jar safely from tipping. Never handle jars by their lids.

A safe costume for canning is worth consideration in these days of shorts, bolters and bare legs. Wear comfortable clothing, but protect arms and body when working with hot water or steam.

HOUSEHOLD EQUIPMENT CARE

You want your household equipment to last as long as possible. And this is especially important in these days of uncertainties as to available replacements. Daily care and needed repair of equipment will influence the length of your equipment's usefulness.

REMEMBER. Electric appliances and equipment should always be disconnected before cleaning or making simple repairs.

An important item in electric appliances care is to repair or replace worn cords and their plug connections before they become dangerous to you and a fire hazard to your home.

If you put on a new cord, be sure to get one large enough and of good quality. A small light cord will not do for an appliance like an iron that requires more current than a light duty appliance like a percolator. Be sure also the new cord carries the band of the Underwriter's Laboratories, signifying the cord has been inspected and tested.

Cords used in a basement or utility room should be water-proof cords. Rubber covered ones are perhaps the best.

Cords last longer if stored by hanging over two supports. In loose loops with no kinks, knots or sharp bends, or store them loosely coiled in a drawer or by the side of the appliance. Some of the larger appliances provide a special storage place for the cord.

Connect all heating appliance cords to the appliance first, then to the electrical outlet. Also break the connection with the current at the outlet, or you may damage the appliance terminals.

SAVE GARDEN SEED

Garden seed for use in next year's garden can still be saved. The list now includes field peas, okra, pepper, lima beans and tomato. Harvest the seed, dry them and store them in thick bags.

Dry peas and beans for table use or planting should be treated for weevils before storage.

HOME ON LEAVE

Frank Ace Godwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gorwin of 309 Ballentine street, is home on leave. He is visiting his family here and relatives in New Orleans.

Frank, who enlisted in the U. S. Navy several months ago, is stationed at San Diego, California.

OPS AUTHORIZES ADJUSTMENT IN NEW CAR PRICES

As an interim measure, OPS has authorized resellers of new passenger automobiles to adjust their ceiling prices to reflect increased manufacturers' costs of automobiles and of items of extra special or optional equipment purchased from manufacturers after September 14, 1951.

In adjusting ceiling prices to reflect manufacturers' increased prices, the seller may add to his present ceiling price the amount, in dollars-and-cents, by which the manufacturer has increased his price, plus the customary percentage markup on such increase. His customary markup is the one he had in effect during February, 1951.

In addition, the dealer may add the dollar-and-cents increase in extra, special or optional equipment bought after September 14, 1951, plus his February, 1951 percentage markup on such increases.

OPS pointed out that dealers still were not permitted to add a markup to the 3 1/2 percent increase granted manufacturers March 1, 1951, but would be given their full customary markup on any new increases auto makers put into effect under CPR 1, Revision 1.

This interim measure is necessary in order to permit resellers to adjust ceiling prices to reflect price increases which may be granted to manufacturers under the revision of the manufacturers' new passenger automobile ceiling price regulation, CPR 1, Rev. 1, issued by OPS on Sept. 7, 1951.

This interim action is covered by Amendment 6 to supplementary Regulation 5 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation, GCPR, which is effective September 14, 1951, and will remain in effect until October 15, 1951, or such earlier date as may be set by an amendment, regulation or new order issued by OPS.

FOOTBALL TICKETS

Football tickets, both seasonal and for single games, are subject to price stabilization regulations. Thomas B. Terry, District Director of the Office of Price Stabilization in Jackson said today:

Tickets for admission to football games can be priced no higher than the highest prices charged during the base period of the previous season as set forth in Ceiling Price Regulation 34, Mr. Terry said. The same regulation applies to admissions to most other sporting events and to fees charged by public golf courses, tennis courts, skating rinks and many others.

Copies of regulations covering such admissions and other services may be obtained at the District OPS Office in Jackson.

WEEKLY NEWS LETTER

by
W. F. BOND, Commissioner State Department Public Welfare

Some months ago, an old man who had been drawing old age assistance for several years died. An outsider was called in to help adjust matters amongst the relatives and it was found that a near relative living in the home with the old man had been wearing a belt containing a good deal of money, all of which belonged to the old gentleman.

In another county, after the death of an old age assistance client, a relative found a fruit jar buried in the back yard with over $1,000.00 in it. In still another county, it was discovered that an old man who had been drawing assistance checks for some time had a nice bank account. He was required to pay back the more than $400.00 he had drawn from the welfare department.

It is the duty under federal and state laws and regulations for the welfare workers to find out from every applicant for assistance what resources the applicant has to draw on so that help may be given only to those who really are in need of help. This means a search of courthouse records, bank accounts, and a gathering of all of the facts relating to the ability of the children to help. This is done not only in fairness to the most needy applicants but also in fairness to the taxpayers who put up the money. Considering the large number of applicants for help, only a very few relatively have not had their total resources put into the record.

Your HEALTH
The State Health Officer Says:

HEART DISEASE CONTROL IN THE STATE

Since November, 1950 a heart control program for the benefit of Mississippians has been promoted by the Heart Disease Control Unit of the Mississippi State Board of Health and the Advisory Heart Committee of the Mississippi State Medical Association. The medical profession expressed its unanimous approval of these activities carried out by the Heart Unit and the Committee, the latter being composed of practitioners and specialists from all over the state under the chairmanship of Doctor T. E. Wilson. Postgraduate education of the physicians in the field of cardiovascular disease receives great attention in the form of seminars and informal sessions in the rural areas of the state.

A research project in the field of arteriosclerosis has been approved and is being carried out with several institutions cooperating with it, among which are the Jackson Hospitals, the Old Ladies Home in Jackson and the Lutheran and Mercy hospitals in Vicksburg. Through a federal grant Dr. Thaddeus D. Laback, head of the Unit, is able to carry out these activities under the auspices of the Heart Committee and with the splendid cooperation of the medical profession at large.

The forthcoming medical meeting of the Mississippi Academy of General Practice in Jackson offers an excellent opportunity for the organization of the Mississippi Division of the American Heart Association. Such a voluntary health organization would complement splendidly the already existing activities of the State Medical Association and the State Board of Health.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh
"Fireman, Save My—"

Volunteer Chief Wilson was telling about some of the extra jobs firemen do. Like rescuing tree-climbing cats—and kids who get stuck almost anywhere.

From where I sit, those boys are always ready to "go out of their way" for the good of the public. The same holds true for the beer retailers who co-operate under the Self-Regulation Program the Brewing Industry sponsors. They've volunteered to help their communities and themselves by keeping their places neat and orderly—run right. They, too, believe in putting out "fires" before they start.

Brother Of Local Resident Turns From Designing To Composing Ballads

Robert Watson Schmertz, brother of P. Schmertz, 122 Court street, is a successful Pittsburgh architect who is gaining fame in another field. When he is called Pittsburgh's successor to Stephen Foster, he is as surprised as anyone. Until now, he has always considered himself an amateur ballad composer.

Burl Ives, the nation's number 1 folk song and ballad singer, changed Mr. Schmertz's amateur standing. Always on the lookout for songs to sing, Mr. Ives has added Mr. Schmertz's "Noah Found Grace in the Eyes of the Lord" to musical America. The ballad, as sung by Mr. Ives, is now spinning on household turntables and in juke boxes all over the country.

"Noah" was actually recorded before by Mr. Schmertz himself. It happened last year when a group of friends brought out a limited subscription album, "Songs by Robert Schmertz." The album, now a collector's item, featured the composer-lyricist singing his own compositions with banjo accompaniment.

Burl Ives, who put the compositions on a mass production basis, got into the act following his recital last year. Somebody arranged an after-recital get-together. The original idea was to hear more of Ives in his life-of-the-party role, but Mr. Ives laid aside his guitar for the rest of the evening after hearing Mr. Schmertz entertain.

The "Noah" song obviously interested him most, for he immediately signed a contract with Columbia records to wax it for them. Mr. Schmertz is an architect and teacher by day and a composer by night. He is a member of the architectural firm of Schmertz & Fisher in Pittsburgh; he is also an associate professor of architecture at Carnegie Tech; and he is a composer.

Mr. Schmertz is as proud of his architectural work and teaching as his song writing. Some of his professional projects are the Morewood Gardens, addition to Carnegie Tech, the same institution's Cyclotron at Saxonburg, and the Mount Lebanon Presbyterian Church Education building, all done with his partner, Raymond A. Fisher.

Mr. Schmertz designed many Pittsburgh homes—but not his own. He was born in it. His lifelong residence is 5427 Wilkins avenue, Squirrel Hill. Thus he upsets another legend—the notion that all ballad singers are homeless wandering characters. He admits that he is following in the tradition of Pittsburgh's Stephen Foster in that he uses material from everyday sources. "I would say though, Foster was too sentimental. My songs are salty and the lyrics add up to being doggerel. I admit that my music plays a secondary part and has just enough there to support lyrics. A tune means little without the words."

His approach to ballad writing shows a kinship to architectural training. He first sketches the lyrics (which are mostly imaginative and have a minimum of scholarly research and tailors the music to fit. Although he performs with a banjo, he composes at the piano—one finger style.

The composer got the idea from "Noah" at a commencement exercise when the speaker kept quoting from the Bible, "Noah found grace in the Eyes of the Lord." When he returned home and heard a Negro revival on the radio, he thought the "Noah" quotation would make a good song. The revival singing over the radio did not give him any melodic idea, only the type of song he wanted to write.

Architectural and artistic talent run in the Schmertz family, and all have Carnegie Tech connections. Mrs. Schmertz, the former Mildred Floyd of Shady-side, is a 1920 Tech art graduate; their children are Mildred, 25, a store interior decorator designer; John, 21, who just graduated from Harvard and is now in Tech's engineering school; and Gretchen, 23, who took art at Tech.

As the family's (and architect's) song writer, Mr. Schmertz says: "After all I was taught that architecture is merely frozen music."
